OUR CONDUCTOR

Andrew Wailes

One of Australia's leading young conductors and most acclaimed choral experts, Andrew Wailes was the inaugural winner of the Australasian International Choral Conducting Competition in 1999. Andrew has conducted the Box Hill Chorale since 1995, and since then has developed it into one of the State's leading community choirs, directing a significant number of world premieres with the group, leading them on numerous tours, and enabling artistic collaborations with a wide range of professional, tertiary, youth and community ensembles throughout the State.

Well known to Melbourne audiences, Andrew is also the Music Director and Chief Conductor of the Royal Melbourne Philharmonic Choir and Orchestra. Conductor and Music Director of the Melbourne University Choral Society, Artistic Director of The Australian Children's Choir and for twelve years directed choral studies at the Australian Catholic University's Melbourne Campus. He has also conducted and taught at all of Melbourne's major tertiary institutions, including the Melbourne University Faculty of Music, Monash University, the Melba Conservatorium and Victorian College of the Arts. For three years he directed the award-winning Symphony Orchestra programme at Blackburn High School, and in 2010 took up a new position as visiting guest maestro at the prestigious Escuela de Direccion de Orquesta y Banda in Spain, working with international conducting students preparing for the Royal Academy of Music Examinations in London.

Andrew is in demand as both an orchestral and choral conductor, and also as a specialist chorus master, and has appeared at many Festival of the Arts as well as major festivals such as Adelaide, Sydney, Port Fairy, Castlemaine State and Melbourne Festivals.

He has prepared choirs for leading international conductors including the late Sir Charles Mackerras, Maestro Valery Gergiev, Diego Masson, Marcus Stenz, Christopher Bell, Jindong Cai, Nicholas Braithwaite, Roy Wales, Douglas Boyd and David Hill. He has conducted many large scale works in his own right, from Handel's Messiah, Mozart's Requiem and Haydn's The Creation, to Offt's Carmina Burana, Elgar's The Dream of Gerontius, Mendelssohn's Elijah, Verdi's Requiem, Rachmaninov's The Bells, Dvorak's Stabat Mater and many major works by Australian composers.

Andrew also makes guest appearances with other choirs and orchestras around Australia, and frequently conducts overseas. Guest appearances have included concerts with the Christchurch Sinfonia (New Zealand), Stuttgart Radio Orchestra, the Camerata Akademica Freiburg, and the Orchester der Universitat Stuttgart (Germany), Harvard University's Collegium Musicum, the Yale Glee Club (USA), local ensembles such as Orchestra Victoria, the Australian Army Band, Stonnington Symphony, and many of Australia's leading choirs including the Australian Intersivity Festival Choir. He has also appeared as conductor throughout New Zealand, in England, Austria, Germany, Finland, Russia, Slovakia, Czech Republic, and extensively throughout China. He recently participated in a conducting symposium at New York's Carnegie Hall.

Andrew has directed choral music at many important events in Melbourne and around Australia, including six AFL Grand Finals, the AFL Awards, the Melbourne International Comedy Festival, the opening of Stadium Australia, the Closing Ceremony of the 2006 Melbourne Commonwealth Games, the Opening Ceremony of the Parliament of the World's Religions, International Rugby Tests, and at many other major events.

A trained singer, Andrew has appeared as a soloist with groups such as Opera Australia, IHOS opera, the National Youth Choir of Australia, Adelaide Symphony Orchestra, Collegium Musicum of WA and Past Echoes Early Music Ensemble. He is a former President of the Australian Intersivity Choral Societies' Association, an experienced Adjudicator and also mentors a number of Melbourne's emerging young conductors. He is listed in the inaugural edition of the "Who's Who" in Victoria, and the International edition of Strathmore's Who's Who.

ABOUT THE BOX HILL CHORALE

The Box Hill Chorale, formerly known as the Box Hill Choral Society, was formed in 1946, and since that time the choir has developed into one of Victoria's most active and respected community choirs, and has behind it a proud history of performance, both within what now forms the City of Whitehorse, and the wider community.

In 1984 the Chorale became a chapter of the Royal Victorian Choir, which traces its origins back to 1868. The community choir of the City of Whitehorse, the Chorale is open to all interested local residents and members of the wider community who have a love of singing and a desire to be part of a vibrant and friendly community choir. Under the direction of award-winning conductor Andrew Wallies, Box Hill Chorale has grown significantly in both size and reputation. Membership currently stands at around 80, and the Choir is today widely regarded as one of Victoria's leading community choirs.

Several other pieces by Nicholas Buc, (including the cantatas Journey of the Wise Men, Celebration Lament, and Centenary Flourish) and the cantata Five Days Old by Christopher Willcock. As well as presenting a number of its own concerts each year, the Chorale also performs at various local civic and community events. The choir has also given its services to local charities and in 2005 produced and organised a Tsunami Benefit concert at Box Hill Town Hall which raised over ten thousand dollars for local aid agencies assisting the Tsunami disaster relief operation.

Box Hill Chorale prides itself on its friendly rehearsal atmosphere, and encourages its members to participate in a number of social events throughout the year. These include interstate and regional tours, a regular monthly bring-a-plate supper during rehearsal, informal dinners on the first Monday immediately following a major concert, and various events organized for members throughout the year. Non-singing partners, family and friends are encouraged to participate in many of these social activities, and are welcomed into the life of the Chorale as valued supporters.

Community music-making at its best!

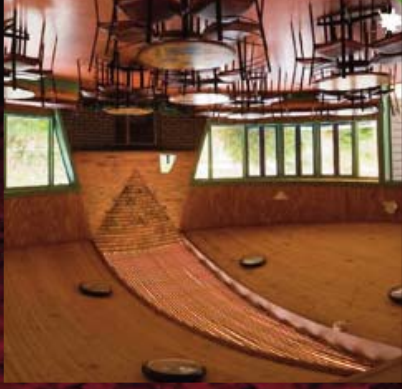

By joining, you not only become a valued member of a team working together to make beautiful music, but you benefit from the advantages of singing that have been medically proven... singing is actually good for your health! A weekly choir rehearsal can be a great way to improve your well being as a person, meet new friends, and put aside the pressures of modern life. Rehearsing and performing can be a wonderful way to enjoy and experience fine music, and you also get the satisfaction of performing to an appreciative audience!

JOINING THE CHORALE

To join Box Hill Chorale, you do not need to have previous musical training, although some singing or other musical experience is an advantage. A desire to have fun and create music of a high standard is a definite pre-requisite, and all chorale members are expected to show commitment to the choir by attending regularly and having a goal learning about music, performing, and and the company of others. Membership of the choir is open to all those who enjoy singing. Prospective new members are very welcome to attend a rehearsal or two prior to joining. There questions can be answered and you can get a feel for the choir, as well as meeting the members.

Rehearsals take place on most Monday evenings (except Public Holidays) from 7.45pm to 10pm in the magnificent 'Arbour' of the Box Hill Community Arts Centre. There is no need to contact the choir prior to attending, although the President would be very pleased to speak to you should you have any questions regarding the choir before attending.
